INFORMATION

THE UNITED STATES ATTORNEY CHARGES:

Count 1

VIOLATION: 18 U.S.C. § 371
(Conspiracy to Commit Wire Fraud, 18
U.S.C. § 1343).

INTRODUCTION

At all times relevant to this Information:

1. Tanos Exploration II LLC (Tanos) was an independent oil and natural gas company, primarily providing exploration and drilling services in East Texas. Tanos's primary offices were located in Smith County, Texas. A significant portion of Tanos's business involved locating oil and gas reservoirs, acquiring the legal rights to drill wells by purchasing or leasing minerals within those reservoirs, and extracting and producing oil and gas for profit. Among other interests, Tanos had active oil and gas interests in reservoirs in Harrison County, Texas.

2. Co-conspirator 1 was an employee at Tanos, working as a senior staff landman. His responsibilities included general land management, securing oil and gas leases, clearing title to mineral surface leaseholds, and oil and gas development. At all times, Co-Conspirator 1 was subject to an employment agreement with Tanos that required him to protect Tanos's confidential and proprietary information.

3. Walton Mosher Royalty Company (WMRC) was a Delaware company owned by Defendant, Jared Lewis Clarke, and Co-Conspirators 2, 3, and 4. WMRC was established for the purpose of acquiring oil and gas mineral interests and selling or leasing those interests to others.

CONSPIRACY

4. Beginning on a date unknown to the grand jury, but at least by on or about October 1, 2019, and continuing thereafter until at least in or about July 2021, in Smith County, in the Eastern District of Texas and elsewhere, Jared Lewis Clarke, did willfully, unlawfully and knowingly combine, conspire, confederate and agree with others both known and unknown to the grand jury, including Co-Conspirators 1, 2, 3, and 4, to commit offenses against the United States, to-wit: to knowingly execute and attempt to execute a scheme to defraud and obtain money, funds, and other property by means of false and fraudulent pretenses and representations, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1343.

MANNER AND MEANS

It was part of the conspiracy that Co-Conspirator 1 would unlawfully provide to other conspirators confidential and proprietary information of Tanos, including "trade secrets," as that term is defined at Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 134A.002. The Co-

Conspirators, including Defendant, Jared Lewis Clarke, would then use that information to acquire oil and gas mineral interests that Tanos could have acquired, to the benefit of the co-conspirators and the detriment of Tanos.

OVERT ACTS

In furtherance of the conspiracy and to effect the objects of the conspiracy, the following overt acts, among others, were committed in the Eastern District of Texas and elsewhere:

(1) On or about October 17, 2019, Co-Conspirator 1, using a cellular telephone, texted one of the co-conspirators about information Co-Conspirator 1 received from an employee at Tanos, specifically, that Bank of Oklahoma Financial (BOK), located in Tulsa, Oklahoma, was managing a trust and that the trust properties include mineral interests in an area where Tanos had active oil and gas drilling operations. BOK had inquired whether Tanos was interested in acquiring the mineral interests. The information was provided to Co-Conspirator 1 for the purpose of determining whether Tanos should consider acquiring the proffered mineral interests.

(2) On or about October 21, 2019, one of the Co-Conspirators, representing himself as “Thomas Fowler,” on behalf of WMRC, contacted BOK using email in interstate commerce about purchasing the interests. “Thomas Fowler” was a fictitious alias created by Co-Conspirators 2, 3, and 4, and Defendant, Jared Lewis Clarke.

(3) On or about October 25, 2019, one of the Co-Conspirators, representing himself as “Thomas Fowler,” using a cellular telephone, contacted one of the parties identified by BOK as having mineral interests for sale.

(4) Between on or about October 29, 2019, and December 12, 2019, one or more of the Co-Conspirators acquired the interests on behalf of WMRC.

(5) On or about December 9, 2019, and January 21, 2020, one or more of the Co-Conspirators, acting as “Thomas Fowler,” in an email, forwarded to Tanos copies of deeds reflecting WMRC’s acquisition of the mineral interests.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 371.
