

AAPL Community Service Award – 2019

Sam Evasick

2019 Community Service Award: Sam Evasick

Sam Evasick is someone who has a passion for educating and reshaping communities. Sam is highly involved in organizations in Denver whose goals align with his personal mission to empower youth around the city. Some of his past and current involvements in the community include acting as Co-Chairman for the Young Professionals in Energy, participating on the Homesteader Auxiliary Fundraising Board, serving on the DAPL Executive Board for many years, and currently serves as Secretary for the Denver Active 20-30 Children's Foundation. The mission of this foundation is to raise money for disadvantaged children through annual fundraising events and projects. Since its inception in 1987, events hosted by Denver Active 20-30 have raised over $10 million dollars. In fact, in Sam's second year of membership with the Denver Active 20-30, he became Chair of the Denver Barn Party and led the event to a sold-out success. Mr. Evasick from Newman University with a Degree in Finance, and later received his MBA from Newman as well. He later went on to receive his Law Degree from the University of Oklahoma. Sam is obviously passionate about education and serving the community members around him and is more than deserving of this award.