Re: AAPL Nomination – Iris L. Bradley, CPL/ESA

Dear Mr. Campbell:

It is with great pleasure and a sincere honor that I nominate Iris Bradley for consideration to the Executive Committee for American Association of Professional Landmen. I have included a copy of her resume and had multiple discussions with her regarding the duties related to serving.

Iris is the consummate AAPL member. Her distinguished land career started in 1982, and she steadily moved up within the energy industry gaining responsibility and leading more land professionals. Her AAPL volunteer duties began in 1987 when she was appointed to her first of three terms on the AAPL board of directors. Her subsequent committee appointments and leadership roles included just about every AAPL committee. In addition, she has been a cornerstone to the Dallas Association of Petroleum Landmen. DAPL created an advisory role on the board of directors to ensure her leadership was integrated into the organization which has ultimately helped grow and cultivate one of the most successful affiliated local associations for AAPL. She has won multiple DAPL and AAPL awards and many know and appreciate her candidness, but her legacy will be defined by her successful identification and nurturing of the next generation of land professionals. The list of her protégé's is long, but needless to say – she has a knack for it.

As a fellow past president of DAPL and former AAPL Executive Committee member, I believe Iris would add perspective, leadership and candidness to any committee she serves. I have known Iris since 2005 and consider her a dear friend. I have served for Iris, with Iris and she has served for me within DAPL. Without reservation, I recommend her to your committee for consideration.

Best,

Jason Maloy, CPL
