Re: AAPL Nomination – Travis Beavers, CPL

Dear Mr. Campbell:

It is with great pleasure and a sincere honor that I nominate Travis Beavers for consideration to the Executive Committee for American Association of Professional Landmen. I have included a copy of his impressive resume and had multiple discussions with him regarding the duties related to serving. In addition to my explaining the roles and responsibilities of the Executive Committee, Travis has a unique perspective as both his father and grandfather have been career volunteers for our organization. It is also worth mentioning that he is one of only a handful of AAPL members that maintain an AAPL Lifetime Membership (#0009319).

Travis grew up attending AAPL annual meetings with his family. He understands and appreciates the process and dynamics of AAPL leadership. He attended college on a track and field scholarship which in my opinion is a difficult sport to compete in at the next level as it is both an individual and team competition. The reason this is worth mentioning is that he has excelled in his individual land career, but also is regularly the go-to individual for AAPL committee work. Simply put, he leads by example.

In addition to graduating with his BBA in 2009, he also obtained his MBA in 2012. Travis has 15 years of land experience and has steadily moved up within the energy industry gaining responsibility and leading more land professionals. Travis has not only received multiple awards from AAPL but has also led the North Houston association as AAPL director, president, vice president, and treasurer.

I cannot contain my excitement knowing that Travis and professionals like him are the future of our beloved AAPL. His humility, work ethic and always positive attitude are just a handful of reasons I believe he will be a great addition to the AAPL leadership team for next year.

Best,

Jason Maloy, CPL
